DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to everyone past and present who has contributed to the profession of pharmacy.

DEAN'S MESSAGE

The job of the Terra Mariae staff is not an easy one!

Within a few pages and from an eclectic collection of photographs and a grab bag of suggestions and ideas from kibitzers, they must fashion a time capsule of the School of Pharmacy.

And this year's staff, led by editor DeAnna White, has succeeded again. Travel through the pages of the Terra Mariae and once again you will kindle your memories of the year 1991 — in Pharmacy Hall, the Allied Health Professions building, the hospital and all of the streets in between. You will remember the sights, sounds and smells of the School of Pharmacy, because that is what a good yearbook is designed to help you do.

1991 is a very special year for the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy since it signifies the 150th year of our existence. Maryland has used that long experience to build a reputation for quality of its faculty, its staff, its programs, and most particularly, its students. The 1991 graduates of all of our programs, baccalaureate, Pharm D, masters and doctorate, will leave with the tools necessary to enter their chosen branch of pharmacy. But I hope that your relationship with the school will just be beginning — for graduates become alumni, and alumni are those who will treasure this Terra Mariae the most.

CHRISTINE M. STEWART

1969-1991

Go placidly amid the noise and the haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence.
As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.
Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth.
Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune.
But do not distress yourself with imaginings, many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.
Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself.
And whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace in your soul.

ANNIVERSARY SECTION

THE FUTURE . . .

The successful future of the University of Maryland School o Pharmacy is dependent of the advancement of three importar factors that serve as the basis for the art and science of ou profession. These include pharmacy education, research an practice.

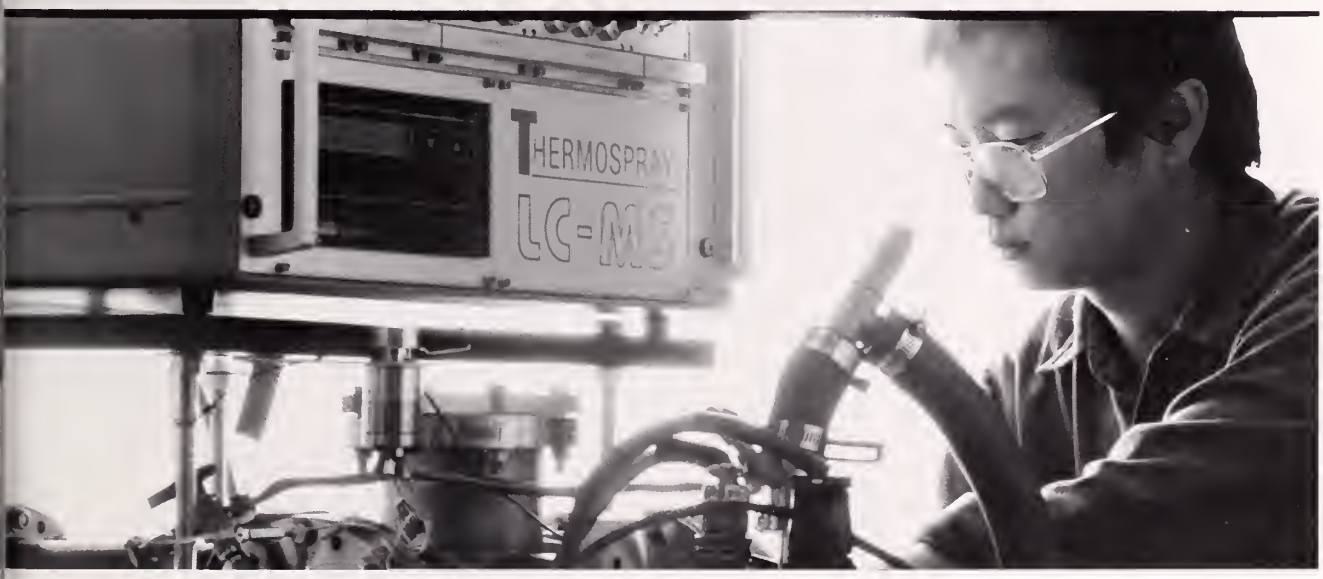
RESEARCH

EDUCATION

PRACTICE

. . . of Pharmaceutical Education

Dr. Gary Hollenbeck, Director of Laboratory Education, working with a pharmacy student in the Undergraduate Teaching laboratory. Study of innovative drug delivery systems is coupled with teaching of traditional compounding skills.



Graduate student determining the chemical structure of a drug and its metabolites using thermospray liquid chromatographymass spectrometry, Advanced training at the graduate level will prepare students for positions in pharmaceutical research, practice, regulation and education.

. . . of Pharmaceutical Research

BIOMEDICINAL CHEMISTRY

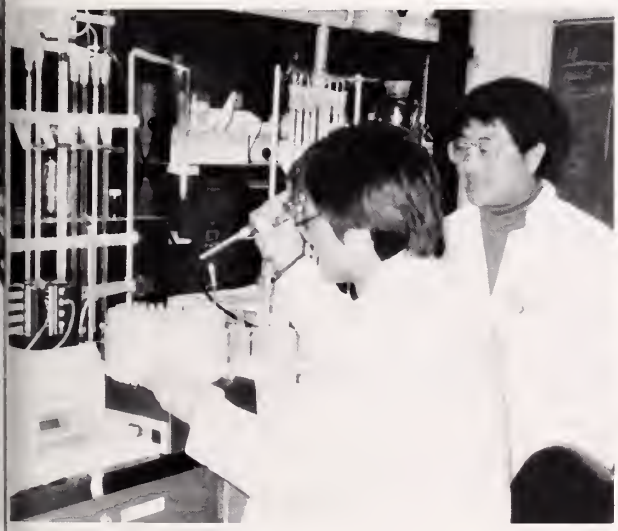
Research Associate performs an analysis using a 300 MHz nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) instrument. Samples from numerous laboratories are brought to the NMR Center in the Department of Biomedicinal Chemistry for chemical identification.

Dr. Sovitj Pou, Research Assistant Professor, demonstrates the three-dimentional molecular structure of the enzyme, superoxide dismutase (SOD). The molecular modeling computer system in the Department of Biomedicinal Chemistry offers state-of-the-art analysis of drug structure and receptor conformation.

PHARMACEUTICS

Nancy Baros, Director of the Industrial Pharmacy Laboratory in the Department of Pharmaceutics, determines the physical properties of an experimental powder preparation. Sophisticated equipment enables researchers to develop and characterize new pharmaceutical formulations.

PHARMACOLOGY AND TOXICOLOGY



Dr. Chul Kim, Associate Professor of Pharmacology and Toxicology, examines the stimulation of mucin release by drugs from an innovative tracheal epithelial cell culture system.

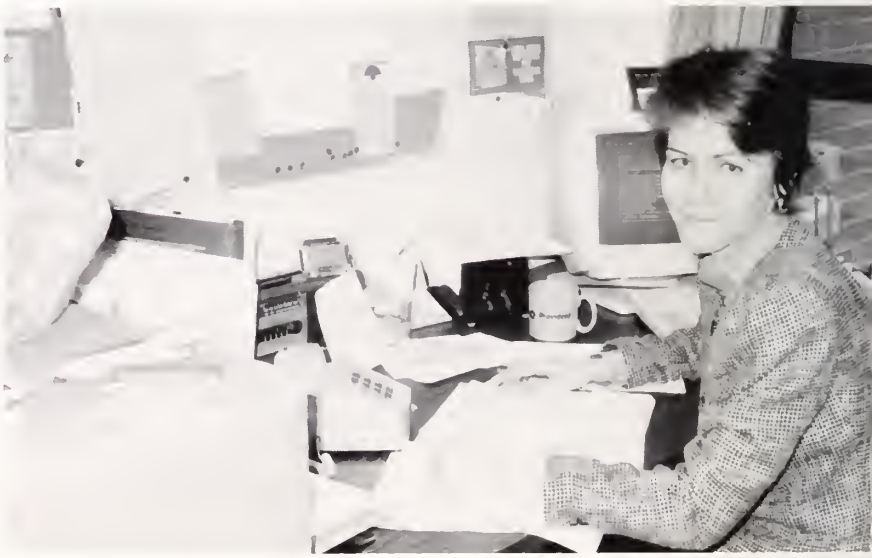
Dr. Gerald Young, Research Associate Professor of Pharmacology and Toxicology, studies the modulation of brain opiate receptors by other drugs using electroencepalogram (EEG) — power spectral analysis.

. . . of Pharmacy Practice

Graduate students in the D partment of Pharmacy Practi and Administrative Science an lyze data collected from a surv of pharmacists' attitudes towa their work environment. Impo tant research topics influenci the future role of pharmacy i clude public policy, pharmaceu cal economics, pharmacoepiden ology, and the social/behavior aspects of drug use.

An important component of social/behavioral research in pharmacy involves fostering appropriate drug use through improved communication between practitioners and patients.

Mona Gold, Pharm.D. of the Department of Clinical Pharmacy, coordinates clinical rotations for students in the Doctor of Pharmacy program. Advanced clinical training will be an important aspect of the transition to the entry-level Pharm.D. degree.



PHARMACY PRACTICE AND ADMINISTRATIVE SCIENCE

Katherine Kucharski, Pharm.D. of Church Hospital, counsels an elderly patient on the proper use of her medication. The elderly are becoming a significant proportion of the medicated population.

Mark Zellhoffer, Pharm.B.S., demonstrates Baker Cell counting technology for accurate drug packaging which allows quality time for patient counseling and professional development.

The Swain Pharmacy Practice Laboratory provides students with an opportunity to apply knowledge obtained from course work to a realistic practice environment.

The Man Who Wins Is The Man Who Thinks He Can

If you think you are beaten, you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you'd like to win, but you think you can't,
It's almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost
For out of the world we find,
Success begins with a fellow's will,
It's all in the state of mind.

Life's battles don't always go
To the strongest or fastest man,
But soon or late, the man who wins,
Is the one who THINKS he can.

Staff: Michelle Apuzzio, Dr. Ralph Blomster, Yuni Cha, Hye Choe, Amy Corbett, Bang Hee Kim, Neil Leikach, Jami Lingle, Jacquelyn Lucy, Boa-Anh Nguyen-Khoa, Faye Oppenheimer, Joanne Padousis, Les Ramos, Tracy Robinson, Lisa Setzler, Kara Sink, Eric Speaks, Todd Stephens, Karen Tafoya, Jody Whetstone, DeAnna White

What does one say on the last page of a yearbook, when the editor is told that it is to be the "best yearbook ever?" One thing that comes to mind, is that after going through the book, I hope you all think I did my job. Of course, this book would not have been possible without the help of so many people. There are also, of course, those people who made this job so much harder due to the lack of cooperation. However, when the job is done, these things are forgotten (sort of).

First of all, I guess I need to "thank" Hope Campbell. If it had not been for her suggesting that I take this position than I would not be writing this letter. If it had not been for Neil Leikach, my best friend, fiance and (most importantly) Business Editor, I would not have ever had the patience or sanity to finish this book. Lisa Setzler (Senior Editor) has been very helpful by resurrecting the Terra Mariae last year and ironing out most of the bugs before I got the book. Without this and her help with the Senior Sections/Graduation, this would not be the book that it is. Jacquie Lucy was everything that a faculty advisor should be and more. Along with her extra workload with the Sesquicentennial, she had to help me with the extra burden of this special edition. Her office staff has helped with the extra burden also and deserve a big thank you for helping whenever I needed it — Thanks Nancy and Ellen! Dean Knapp deserves a special thanks for all of his support for this book. The Finance office, Dean's office and Student Affairs office was very helpful throughout the year!

Now last but not least, the staff of Terra Mariae deserves a lot of credit for being there whenever I needed a hand. Many hours at school and home were dedicated to finishing pages for the next day's deadline and without these people this would not be the "best yearbook ever." This letter is too long for me to list everyone — you know who you are and you are listed on the previous page. Special thanks to Karen, Faye, Joanne and especially to next year's editors — Michelle and Yuni since they get to take this fun job from me! Thanks also to all those people who located pictures for many pages.

Sincerely,
DeAnna (Dixie) White
